Out and about in Hollywood & beyond

LEO DICAPRIO, "Entourage" star KEVIN CONNOLLY and FOUR leggy, miniskirt-wearing model-types had dinner at the Chateau Marmont on Oct. 28. Just one question, Leo – where's that other leggy model...your girlfriend, BAR REFAELI?

MARILYN MANSON hosted a Halloween bash at Hollywood's Roosevelt Hotel. The goth rocker – looking scary, as usual – had two bikini-clad, high-heeled... uh, people... on each arm the whole night. Girlfriend EVAN RACHEL WOOD was nowhere in sight, but Marilyn did spend some time huddled in a corner chatting with DAVID SPADE, who was dressed like an Amish man.

JIMMY KIMMEL stopped by the soft opening night of Ecco Ultra Lounge in Hollywood on Oct. 28 and was overheard chatting about his on-again, off-again girlfriend SARAH SILVERMAN. "We're doing great!" he told a pal.

JOHN STAMOS celebrated a friend's birthday at Beverly Hills restaurant Trattoria Amici on Oct. 29. The "ER" hunk brought the house down with his over-the-top rendition of "Happy Birthday."

JALEEL "URKEL" WHITE came out for the launch of Ultimat Vodka at The Kress in Hollywood on Oct. 29. The "Family Matters" geek-turned-player showed up with a tall beauty and proceeded to work his surprisingly smooth moves on the dance floor.

The Lowe-down on Rob's new nanny

NO MORE NANNY NONSENSE! Rob and Sheryl Lowe want to make their baby sitter blues a thing of the past! As the bitter lawsuits between them and former nanny Jessica Gibson work their way through the California court system, Sheryl has chosen a new nanny who is a sure bet to keep temptation – and sexual harassment charges – at bay. This past April, the Lowes filed a lawsuit against longtime employee Jessica, claiming she threatened to spread lies against them unless they paid her $1.5 million. She countersued, saying that Rob repeatedly exposed himself to her, groped her, showed her porn on his computer and asked her for a massage. The Lowes' new hire – seen here running errands with Sheryl in Santa Barbara on Nov. 1 – appears less glamorous than their stunning ex-nanny Jessica.
