

By ROBIN MIZRAHI

ROCK 'N' ROLL Romeo Fred Durst is finally settling down - with a woman he met just two months ago!

Fred, who has been linked to such celeb hotties as Britney Spears, Halle Berry, Alyssa Milano and Paris Hilton, is marrying 21-year-old Krista Salvatore, whom he met during Memorial Day weekend in Rhode Island.

The 35-year-old Limp Bizkit frontman was in Providence to direct and star in his first movie, "The Education of Charlie Banks," when he met Krista. "This is very special to me," Fred wrote on his

WOMANIZER FRED DURST TYING KNOT

MySpace.com page. "I'm loving life."

"Fred is one of the biggest talkers and kiss-and-tell show-offs in the entertainment business," said a source close to the singer. "It's hard to believe he's settling down and getting married to a virtual unknown."

"He's managed to tick off some of show business' most desirable women with his unproven boasts."

In 2003, Fred had a well-publicized feud with Britney Spears after claiming he bedded the then-21-year-old star and accused her of being out of control - which Brit denied.

He has also said the reason he sang a duet with Christina Aguilera at the 2000 MTV Video Music awards was "for the nookie."

"Fred's the last person in the world I thought would fall in love and marry a woman he met only a few months ago!" continued the source.

"It would be a miracle if this girl has tamed the guy that many women refer to as rock music's biggest PIG!"