BABY NO. 2 for Gwen Stefani

New tour with No Doubt after she gives birth

Gwen with husband
Gavin Rossdale
and son Kingston

At age 38, Gwen Stefani is pregnant with baby No. 2. The No Doubt singer and rocker husband Gavin Rossdale – who already have a 20-month-old son – expect their next arrival this fall, The ENQUIRER has learned exclusively.

"Gwen is pregnant again and thrilled," a music insider told The ENQUIRER.

"She and Gavin have settled into their Los Angeles mansion, where they'll stay for most of this year."

And we have also learned exclusively that Gwen is now back in the recording studio with her former No Doubt bandmates working on a new album – and the group is planning a 2009 worldwide tour after the baby is born.

Gavin and Gwen will bring their new baby home to their magnificent six-bedroom mansion – which set them back a whopping $13.25 million.

"She can hardly believe her good luck. She's nearly 40 – yet less than two years after giving birth to Kingston, she got pregnant again," said the insider.

"When Gwen first left the group to record her CD, she kept promising her old bandmates that one day she'd be back to record another album with them," said the insider. "Now she's made good on her promise."
