

J.Lo's twins won't be identical!

...one's a boy,
one's a girl

IT'S pink-and-blue bundles of joy for J.Lo! Last week The ENQUIRER revealed the wonderful news that Jennifer Lopez is pregnant with twins, according to friends. Now we've learned that she and husband Marc Anthony are expecting a boy and a girl in the spring. "Marc wants to name their daughter after his mother, Guillermina – and they're toying with English versions of the Spanish name, which loosely translates to Wilma or Wilamina," revealed the friend. "Because Marc already has two sons, Jennifer will choose the name of their baby boy." Now in her second trimester, Jennifer, 38, "feels great and looks radiant," said the friend. "She's having no morning sickness, and she's eating really well."
