

OUTRAGED TOURISTS CHARGE:

Drunk Lindsay almost KILLED US!

FRESH out of rehab, Lindsay Lohan is already drinking again, The ENQUIRER has been told exclusively by an eyewitness who says she saw her partying at a Hollywood hotspot.

What's more, in the wake of her relapse, Lindsay nearly ran over a mother and daughter outside a Hollywood hotel, charge the alleged victims.

Ellen Morrissey, 43, of Erieville, N.Y., and her daughter Erin, 13, say their dream vacation turned into a nightmare after what they describe as two horrific recent encounters with the "Mean Girls" star.

"My daughter was a huge fan of Lindsay's and we were very excited to spot her in front of our hotel, the Hollywood Roosevelt, waiting for the valet to bring around her car," Ellen told The ENQUIRER.

"I asked if she would be kind enough to allow us to take a photo of her with my daughter. She told us: 'OK, let me just get in my car and I'll circle around.'"

"Lindsay was holding a glass of clear liquid with a wedge of lemon in it, and she seemed to slur when she spoke. She also appeared to stagger to her car."

Said Erin: "I have never been around anyone who reeked so much of alcohol. It was totally disgusting!"

The early morning photo op at 2:30 a.m. on Feb. 18 suddenly spun out of control when 20-year-old Lindsay poured herself into her black Mercedes – and floored the accelerator, said Ellen.

"We had to leap out of the way. I couldn't believe it. She almost killed

NO LONGER FANS?
Ellen and daughter Erin say they experienced two disappointing incidents with Lindsay

Lindsay was holding a glass of clear liquid...and she seemed to slur when she spoke us, literally! Then Lindsay sped off, and all I could think was that she was going to kill someone or herself – or both."

When asked about the incident, Lindsay's publicist told The ENQUIRER: "Ellen Morrissey should be more concerned about her daughter being up at the hotel revealed: "Lindsay was drinking Grey Goose vodka. She never ordered anything herself – others in her group got drinks for her. She behaved like she was sloshed."

Despite the chilling incident, Ellen and Erin gave hell-on-wheels Lindsay the benefit of the doubt, and hoped she would rectify the situation when they spotted her two days later in the hotel lobby.

On Feb. 20 at around midnight, says Ellen: "I asked Lindsay politely if she would take a quick moment to stand next to Erin so I could take a photo."

"But Lindsay turned to me, enraged, gestured at my daughter and screamed: 'Get that bitch away from me!' It was so vicious and unexpected that Erin began to cry. How could a celebrity treat a young fan that way?"

"Lindsay just shook her head, staring at us, and watched Erin cry. Then she sort of laughed and headed off."

"Lindsay is a cruel, obnoxious mess."
by ROBIN MIZRAHI
and RICK EGUSQUIZA

The star had a close call in her black Mercedes

2:30 a.m. than about Lindsay."

A hotel staffer confirmed: "Lindsay was driving like a wild woman – and it's not the first time she's driven out of here like a maniac."

"She swerved – almost hitting a mother and daughter as she left the valet area."

An eyewitness at Teddy's bar in

BREAK FROM REHAB:
Lindsay stepped out for some groceries