

LINDSAY ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

■ EYEWITNESS TELLS ALL ■

"I'm going to kill myself!"

That was the anguished cry of a pathetic Lindsay Lohan as she slashed her wrists during a night filled with drugs and alcohol.

"It's no longer a question of IF Lindsay will kill herself. At this point, it's a question of when," said a longtime friend of the 21-year-old "Mean Girls" star.

The friend provided chilling details of Lindsay's suicide bid, which occurred after a night of heavy partying earlier this year.

"Lindsay started the night snorting lines of cocaine and throwing back glass after glass of Grey Goose vodka on the rocks at Winston's," a trendy bar on Santa Monica Boulevard, said the friend, who was an eyewitness to the events. "Lindsay kept saying: 'I'm going to get higher than ever tonight. And I don't care what happens to me.'"

"Later, at her favorite hangout Teddy's at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, she rubbed powdered MDMA (Ecstasy) on her gums and snorted a powdered form of the amphetamine Adderall. Then she washed it all down with more Grey Goose."

After that, Lindsay and her crew party-hopped in the Hollywood Hills.

"At one house she chased the painkiller OxyContin with another half-dozen lines of coke," said the friend.

Continued on page 16

LINDSAY LOHAN — who earned $6 million in 2006 alone — is running out of money.

Two months ago, her handlers warned her that she was down her last $200,000 and her mother took out a second mortgage on her home to help her out, sources say.

Now she's flim-flamming to raise cash and basically homeless, according to insiders.

"When Lindsay is on the road either filming or promoting a movie, she'll use her per diem allowance to buy drugs," said a source who has been close to her for years.

Star running out of money — FAST

"She gets the cash from the hotel cashier — who in turn charges the production company — and goes straight out and buys drugs."

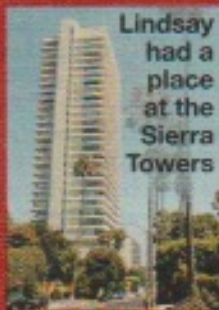

And a Los Angeles celebrity photographer tells The ENQUIRER: "A few months ago, Lindsay started alerting us to where she'd be, so we could get a good photo-op — in exchange for cash.

"It's so sad that an actress so young — and with so much promise — has sunk this low in such a short time."

Even sadder, Lindsay essentially has no home. She no longer has her plush Hollywood apartment at the Sierra Towers, and she's been advised not to return to the Malibu home where she was staying.

"Lindsay extended her stay in rehab because she's basically homeless," said the source.

Lindsay had a place at the Sierra Towers

CASH FLASH: Lindsay is selling photo-ops for a price

"And after her arrest on July 24, she was whisked away to a friend's house in the Hollywood Hills where she hid out for a few days."