

LINDSAY GETS HIGH

with a little help from her friends

"With a crazed look in her eye, she said: 'Pills, vodka and coke! What more could you want?' She knows just the right combination of drugs to keep the high going."

Many of her friends won't join her, says the source, but if they don't, she criticizes them.

"She once gave an envelope of cash to a friend and told her to go outside where a car was waiting and the driver would give her cocaine.

"BUT THE FRIEND REFUSED. She told Lindsay: 'I'm not going to get arrested for you!' Lindsay yelled: 'Then you're not getting any of the drugs!'

"Lindsay then asked someone else to go out to the car. She told him: 'If you don't come back with cocaine, don't bother to come back at all - and don't ever call me again!'"

One night at Winston's, a trendy bar in West Hollywood, a drunken Lindsay passed out prescription pills to her party pals - and lashed out if they balked.

"After drinking vodka straight from the bottle, Lindsay took four different pillboxes out of her purse," said the insider.

"Each pillbox was filled with prescription pills of a different color. Lindsay passed them out to her friends. If someone refused, she'd say: 'Get the (bleep) out of here if you're not going to party with me!'

"At the club Butter in New York one night, one of her friends said he was tired and had to go home. Lindsay said: 'No problem! Just take this Adderall. It will keep you up' - and she actually shoved the pill in his mouth.

"A little while later, he passed out on the floor - and Lindsay started laughing! She said: 'Oops! I guess I gave him the wrong pill!' She thought it was hysterical."

The insider says she once joined Lindsay on a two-week drug binge - and barely escaped alive.

"We did coke, uppers, downers, Ecstasy - you name it - until I couldn't take it any more," the insider said. "I had to get away from her. I truly believe that if I hadn't, I would have overdosed and died."
