LINDSAY LOHAN'S FULLY LOADED SHOPPING TRIP

By ROBIN MIZRAHI

BASED on this shopping list, Lindsay Lohan might be having a LOT of fun lately!

The ENQUIRER recently obtained a late-night receipt from a Los Angeles convenience store with a credit card name listed as "Lindsay Lohan."

Representatives for Lindsay Lohan "The Actress" refused to confirm or deny to The ENQUIRER that the receipt belonged to her, but whoever this mysterious, potentially new Lindsay Lohan is, her purchases show that just like the real Lindsay, she sure doesn't hold back from enjoying herself!

The receipt shows three bottles of wine were purchased.

CONVENIENCE STORE
SPREE TOTALS $158.71

(Lindsay Lohan "The Actress" is 20 and not old enough to drink legally.)

Also purchased were Trojan Magnum condoms and a package of Unisom Sleep aid pills. (Now, sure we could speculate about what that all adds up to, but we'll leave that to you, our loyal readers and dedicated Hollywood star watchers!)

In addition to the booze, pills and condoms, purchases included Diet Coke, Honey Nut Cheerios, Doritos, grated cheese and a Hot Pockets ham and cheese sandwich.

T.G.I. Friday's chicken quesadilla rolls, Stouffer's macaroni cheese, Lean Cuisine chicken and a green tea supplement made the list.

And just in case her wild night at home left her dragging next morning, the former thinking customer tossed Excedrin headache tablets and Ginseng Energy Now pills. She spent $158.71 in all.

Lindsay Lohan "The Actress" suffers from asthma and, coincidentally, on the list were Claritin Tablets (for allergy sufferers), and Sudafed!

BLOWIN' IN THE WIND

The list of items on that grocery list would make anybody's hair stand on end. And whether it really was Lindsay's list or not, the young actress is definitely having a bad hair day in this picture.
