SINGER LOU RAWLS JUGGLES 2 LOVERS — AND A WIFE!

Woman's shocking claim

SOUL man Lou Rawls is a lying, smooth-talking womanizer who cheated on his wife AND on his mistress. That's the claim of Lisa Bozek, who says she recently ended a 13-year affair with the music man.

In an exclusive interview with GLOBE, the pretty brunette reveals that Rawls' domestic battery arrest during a fight with galpal Nina Inman on Jan. 15 came as a devastating shock to her — because she thought she was his only mistress!

Amazingly, Lisa, 41, says the Grammy-winning singer of hits like You'll Never Find and Lady Love had been seeing both her and Nina, 32 — while still married to wife Ceci.

"I don't know how Lou manages a busy career and is still able to juggle a wife and several girlfriends at one time," she tells us.

Now, Lisa rips the lid off Rawls' amazing private life, claiming to reveal his sex secrets, compulsive womanizing and skinflint ways.

"Lou is incredibly cheap," says Lisa, who works as a realtor in Las Vegas. "After a meal, I'd leave a $5 or $10 tip, but he'd grab it, pocket it and replace it with a buck or two. Then he'd shake hands with the waiters. He said a handshake with Lou Rawls takes the place of a tip."

And while Rawls, 68, has been a driving force behind the Parade of Stars telethons, which raises money for the United Negro

"All he really does is perform for free, which keeps him in the limelight," she says.

He's even a tightwad with his three grown children, Kendra, 43, Lou Jr., 39, and Louanna, 34, she claims. Lisa says the singer is "not at all involved" with his oldest daughter Kendra, the mother of four kids.

His son Lou Jr., who has worked as a part-time bouncer in a strip club, sometimes needs money, she says. "Lou will send him a little money maybe one out of every five times his son asks, but he hates doing it. He can't stand to part with his money."

Lisa says she was 28 when a mutual friend introduced her to the 55-year-old star at a party in 1990.

"It wasn't love at first sight, but I liked him a lot," she says. "He's very charming with an incredibly seductive voice and sweet sense of humor."

After three months of calls and dates, they started sleeping together, she says.

"He really wasn't anything special in bed," she says. "But when it's with someone you're madly in love with — that's enough."

They saw each other in L.A., where they both lived, and "when he went on tour around the country," she says, "I'd usually go with him."

But the skinflint singer made her pay for her airfare most of the time, she says.

"He rarely bought
