

Lady Love: Lisa Bozek says she'd been seeing the singer for five years before she discovered he was married

Rawls and wife Ceci. A divorce would cost him too much money, Bozek claims me gifts," she says. "He seemed to think his big gift to me was the fact that I was dating the great Lou Rawls. But I bought him tons of presents - golf clubs, cell phones and clothes."

Amazingly, Lisa claims Rawls plunged into his affair with her, the year AFTER he'd married his second wife Ceci in 1989.

Lisa described the singer as very vain, who laughed when she took a nude photo of him.

"He thinks he's a good lover," she says. "He loves to look in the mirror and loves to have pictures taken of himself. He thinks he looks great naked."

Rawls' publicist David Brokaw says that Lisa is just a friend of the singer and insists that Rawls tips the standard 15 percent. Brokaw admits that Rawls once posed nude for Lisa.

But Lisa insists Rawls was a lying lover and, for the first five years of their affair, misled her into believing he was single. When she finally learned he was married and furiously confronted him, she says,

"he told me, 'Baby, please don't be angry.' He went into a long explanation about how he had to stay married to Ceci because he didn't want to pay all the money it would cost to divorce her."

Furious Lisa says she even went to see Ceci. "She told me they lived separate lives, but still loved each other," Lisa claims. "She said she was happy to have the nice house and money, and didn't care if he got sex elsewhere."

Lisa continued to see Rawls because he kept promising to get a divorce, she says. But she says she discovered in January that Rawls had been two-timing her with his other galpal, Nina.

Lisa says she later learned that the arrest incident was the result of a fight triggered when Nina learned he was married. Nina also didn't know about Lisa.

Now, heartbroken Lisa says she's called it quits with her cheating lover.

"Lou took 13 years of my life," she says.

"All the love and energy we shared came to this demeaning end."

- ROBIN MIZRAHI