

NICOLE'S MIS WEDD

By ROBIN MIZRAHI

A HEARTBREAKING miscarriage secret tormented Nicole Kidman even as she immersed herself in the joy of her wedding to Keith Urban, The ENQUIRER has learned exclusively.

The Oscar-winning actress is now terrified that she won't be able to bear a child for new husband Keith, say sources.

"Nicole must be haunted by the miscarriage she suffered just a few weeks after first husband Tom Cruise walked out on her," a source revealed.

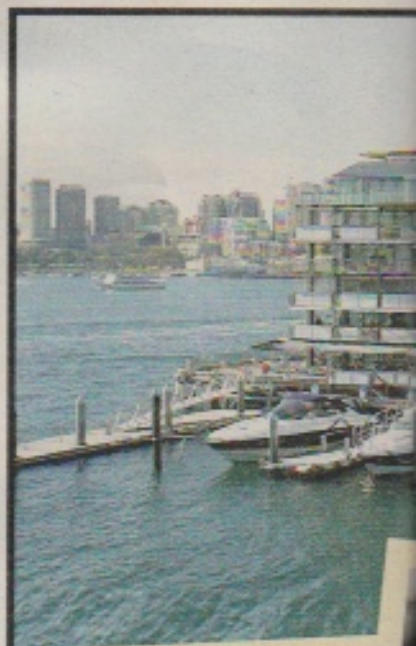

"She also apparently suffered an ectopic pregnancy in the past and has dealt with a series of medical issues.

"I think losing two pregnancies weighs heavily on Nicole's mind. And now that she's almost 40, her chances of carrying a child to term are less than they were when she was younger."

"Nothing would make Nicole and Keith happier than having their own biological child," revealed the source.

"But Nicole is worried that their dream of having children will never come true."

The 39-year-old star has suffered a series of medical mishaps in the past several years. While making the 2001 film "Moulin Rouge," Nicole suffered a trio of accidents — breaking her ribs twice and tearing cartilage in a knee. And just a month after her February 2001

IS SHE PREGNANT AGAIN?

This photo sparked rumors that Nicole may already be expecting again. Pals say she's worried because she's been pregnant twice before but has never been able to carry a child to term split from Tom, Nicole suffered a devastating miscarriage. In addition, Nicole had a benign cyst removed from her left breast as well as an ovarian cyst removed in 1998.

"The experience with Tom scarred Nicole," said an insider. "And Nicole has had enough medical scares to last a lifetime."